What is Take Back the Night?
Take Back the Night (TBTN) is an event that happens on college campuses across the United States. TBTN brings awareness to sexual violence issues and provide an opportunity for survivors and others to share their experiences with violence in a powerful space after rallying and marching together.

Event Details
TBTN at Stanford University will happen Tuesday, April 19th from 7:00-10:00pm.

The rally and march will begin at 7:00pm at White Plaza. Our speak out will take place at 8:00pm on Meyer Green.

Disability-Related Accommodations and Services:
If you need a disability-related accommodation or wheelchair access information, please contact the SHARE: Education team by phone: (650) 725-1056 or email: saraoffice@stanford.edu. Requests should be made by Tuesday, April 12th.